Mr. Wayne B. Colburn
Director
United States Marshals Service
Department of Justice
Washington, D. C. 20530

Dear Mr. Colburn:

This is in response to your letter to Mr. James R. Schlesinger dated 22 May 1973 requesting establishment of a formal working relationship with this Agency.

I telephoned Inspector John T. Brophy on 6 June 1973 in response to that letter and informed him of previous correspondence on this subject. Mr. Kleindienst, as Deputy Attorney General, wrote to Mr. Helms, then Director of this Agency, on 23 October 1970 requesting that we designate appropriate individuals to meet with representatives of the United States Marshals Service. On 5 November 1970, Mr. Helms responded in writing to Mr. Kleindienst suggesting that representatives of the United States Marshals Service be in contact with the undersigned to consult and determine what assistance we could give. On several occasions thereafter Mr. Warner did meet with representatives of the Marshals Service and we regard these channels as remaining in effect. Please let me know if we can be of assistance.

As was pointed out in the letter from Mr. Helms, we must be careful in this area as we are under statutory injunction that the Agency shall have no police, subpoena, law-enforcement powers, or internal-security functions.

May 22, 1973

Mr. James R. Schlesinger
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

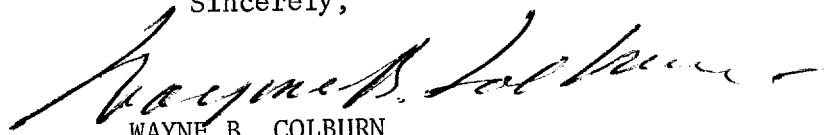

Dear Mr. Schlesinger:

The United States Marshals Service is actively engaged in the protection of sensitive government witnesses, court and judicial security, prevention of air piracy and controlling civil disturbance situations. These missions are in addition to the regular duties of making arrests, transporting prisoners and serving criminal and civil process.

In order to completely fulfill our responsibilities in the above areas, we find it necessary to maintain close and continuous contact with all other Federal agencies. We hereby request establishment of a formal working relationship with your Agency whereby we can share information on matters of mutual concern.

We trust that this relationship will be one of mutual benefit to our respective organizations. Inspector John T. Brophy (739-4477) representative of this Agency's Liaison Unit, will be in contact with your headquarters in the near future to determine a mutually convenient time to meet with representatives of your Agency.

Sincerely,

WAYNE B. COLBURN

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

WASHINGTON, D. C. 20503

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

5 NOV 1970

The Honorable Richard G. Kleindienst
Deputy Attorney General
Washington, D. C. 20530

Dear Mr. Kleindienst:

I have your letter of October 23, 1970, requesting that I make available for consultation to the United States Marshals Service members of my staff who have expertise in the field of personal security and experience in the operation of secure sites.

While we must be careful in this area, as we are under statutory injunction that the Agency shall have no police, subpoena, law-enforcement powers, or internal-security functions, I do not believe this need inhibit us from exchanging information growing out of experience or expertise which might be of use to the Department of Justice. In fact, for quite some time our General Counsel's office has been conducting such an exchange, on an informal basis, with various components of the Department of Justice. I, therefore, suggest that Mr. Hall and Mr. Kash get in touch with Mr. John S. Warner, our Deputy General Counsel, to consult and determine what assistance we can give in this regard.

Sincerely,

/s/ Richard Helms
